Some folks tell us we're all right and some folks say we're wrong, and that makes it hard to know what is right or wrong. But we'll go ahead and do our best, no matter what they say, for we've got a row that we must hoe and we'll do it our best way.

TWO PICTURES.

Two pictures hang in the back of our mind. We wish we had the understanding, insight and art to illuminate and interpret them clearly. One, you will be helped to see better than we can describe it, by glancing at the first article of the June 25th Saturday Evening Post. It concerns the widespread industrial organization necessary to the conduct of modern war. A fine-lined detail map of war territory has the caption (in part) "How war resembles a monster business corporation—". Lists of specialists required in war cover most of the industries. "Soldiers don't fight battles any more. Whole peoples fight them. Nor are they fought in battle fields. They are fought over countries." We have but to mention these things to bring to your mind the all too vivid picture—the organized life of nations converging to the trenches, there to pour over the top, from out the spout of the colossal industry of which you and I are partners; its legitimate product ("product"!! we sully the word)—dead men, destroyed property, human desolation and despair. With what facility governments take for granted the consent of the governed, for the organization and co-operation necessary for this "production".

Open the eyes of your mind to another picture as it grows. The canvas upon which it is painted, is a vast tract of undeveloped Mexican land, seven times the size of our county. Sea-coast with fine harbor on the one hand, mountains rich in mineral wealth and water power on the other, great stretches of level fertile acres in the middle distance; all tempered with a climate suitable to the greatest productivity. See springing up from the very ground, according to pre-arranged comprehensive plans, a moderate co-operative commonwealth. See the model industrial city of the world (built as a unit from co-ordinating plans at one-fifth the usual cost) grow up about the harbor; furnishing every modern facility for industrial efficiency with especial regard to its human instruments, and withal architecturally beautiful. See a second city—a residence city—the educational, cultural, administration, center grow up twenty-five miles inland; gracing the land as a master-work of art. See a network of paved highways and electrical roads giving access to every corner of the land. See the mineral water, and agricultural resources developed to the full. See transportation—trucks, railroads, ships and docks co-ordinated to one great purchasing and marketing unit. See homes, rural as well as urban, grow up in ready accessibility to all that makes life worth while. See a great and happy population made free to develop individual industry, talent and personality, by a profit-sharing plan that eliminates speculation and the monopolization of natural resources, and gives to each the full benefit of the tremendous increase in land values, a pro rata share in the net income of natural resources and the combined savings of large scale co-operative operation, purchasing and marketing. See opportunity for constructive employment given to thousands of idle workers and markets opened to eager commerce. See two countries laying aside the temper of suspicion and distrust in a growing mutual understanding and respect.

You interrupt us at this point to remark that you hail from a certain middle-west state. "Yes" we reply, "we also have traveled much in the same noble state." "When governments do a thing like that—" you begin. "Governments!!" we rather guess not. Our noble governments can not yet see their way clear to take for granted the consent of the governed for any such production as this. Well, after all, how could they? They can only reap what the people sow, must always be but tail-enders. What possibly can develop but that which is typified in our first picture, when the predominating temper of whole nations is dominance and competition. Dominance in the seed is dominance in the ear.

No, this project is the matured plan of a voluntary group of forward-looking folks who have put across a similar plan on a smaller scale at Atascadero. It looks good and is inherently no more impractical than the organization actualized in war.

But whether, as pictured in their publications, it will ever emerge, is for our present purpose, beside the mark. We have merely used it as the subject of one of our companion pictures. The material organization and co-operation represented in both of our pictures is very similar. The soul of the one is dominance, of the other tolerance. They are but the embodiment of the temper of whole peoples, whole civilizations. Every promise and tender shoot therefore of neighborly tolerance, every deep laid intelligent plan of a disciplined freedom; is the welcome evidence of the growth of the only immunity to the war disease. "Do men gather figs of thistles or grapes of thorns?" How then could we ever have expected the spirit of freedom to grow up out of the temper of dominance, or human happiness out of desolation and despair. Ever within the galleries of each human mind hangs some version of the one or the other of our two pictures. According to the inspiration of these mind galleries each generation paints its composite picture of civilization—in the vivid living colors of human progress and happiness, or in dark shadows of degradation, desolation and death.

THE TOWN'S NAME

It would not be out of place to have the names of the mountain towns spread on a banner and stretched across the street at each approach of the places, so that people passing through in their machines could know where they are. Particularly would this be of advantage if something happened in a town to leave a pleasant reminder of it to take with them as they continued their journey. A little kindly attention some times does a lot to make a favorable impression of the people of a place and fix its location in their minds.

BIG CROWDS AT BASIN

It is estimated that between 12,000 and 15,000 people visited Big Basin during the Fourth of July holidays. It is said to be the largest assembling of people at this beautiful playground ever known in the history of the place since it became a state park. There is probably not another place like it in the world and with adequate accommodations it is difficult to estimate the number of people who would visit the resort every summer.

If Boulder Creek, Brookdale and Ben Lomond are good places in which to spend a summer vacation, they ought to be good enough to be developed in such a manner that more people who want to come to this community can find accommodations when they get here.

PERSONALS

A. B. Hoag, from Santa Cruz, spent Sunday with his son and grandchildren, Dr. R. B. Hoag, Stephen and Hugh Hoag, in Boulder Creek.

Fred Barker, who came to Boulder Creek from Oakland two weeks ago to enjoy a vacation, returned to business in his home city Tuesday.

A. W. J. Gibbs has been elected by the British Societies as a delegate to the convention to be held in San Francisco the first Tuesday in August as one of the supreme officers of the United States and Canada. It will be a good opportunity to boom the interests of Boulder Creek.

A. B. Hoag of Berkeley is at the Barker home for a two weeks' vacation sojourn.

Community Mention.

Through the courtesy of Station Agent J. H. Aram and the Southern Pacific railway, the S. P. park has been nicely cleaned up and arrangements have been made to have the water turned on once more. While our town is supposed to be a dry one we are going to have a wet fountain.

The lease of Linden Park, which has been kept up by Station Agent J. H. Aram, has been taken over by the Boulder Creek Improvement club. The park, which will be opened in a few days, is to have a care taker and arrangements are being made for the accommodations of campers.

Mrs. Anthony has been working very hard to have our outside fountain put in good running order, where children as well as grown-ups may enjoy the benefits of Boulder Creek's good pure water.

The welfare committee of the Boulder Creek Improvement club, consisting of Mrs. Goslow, Mrs. McAbee and Mrs. Griffith, are having signs prepared directing people to the sulphur springs.

A great surprise is in store for all the members of the Improvement club at its meeting next Monday night and all people interested in having the streets lighted should come out and get acquainted with each other and help Boulder Creek to be illuminated like other towns.

The crowd in Boulder Creek over the Fourth was very satisfactory except that its stay was very short, owing to the lack of entertainment and inadequate accommodations. Every available room in the place was taken and those who came late had to make out the best they could.

A. W. J. Gibbs has been appointed a committee of one to look into the matter of securing a suitable building as a Community Hall, where meetings of the people can be held and rally together for the purpose of booming the community.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Anthony and Mr. Carpenter, a sign has been placed at the corner of the Saratoga and San Lorenzo roads pointing the way to town. W. S. Rodgers placed the sign in position and it is greatly appreciated by people traveling this route as it can be seen in time to make the turn without the necessity of backing.

The ice cream and soft drinks emporiums of the town were kept busy Saturday, Sunday and Monday, there being little let-up in the demands made upon them throughout the entire three days.

BROOKDALE BUDGET

Brookdale was filled to the limit with guests over the Fourth. It is said that the crowds have greatly increased since the new highway was opened.

A young man by the name of Salisbury, from Oakland, while in bathing Sunday, dove from a rock and hit his head on a submerged timber, cutting a gash about four inches long in his head. Dr. Phillips was called to dress the wound which required twelve stitches in order to close it.

Fourth of July was celebrated here with much noise and display of red lights. No damage was done and every one seemed to have a good time. The freedom of the woods is an enjoyment that people who live in the smothering walls of a city can not fail to enjoy and many of them are making the most of it during vacation.

There was a fire at a ranch near by but none of the particulars are known except that it did not start from the explosion of fire-works.

A new piano, purchased from F. R. Howe, in Santa Cruz, has been installed in the hall and everyone is noting the great improvement in the music, which not only adds pleasure to the ear but makes the dancing more enjoyable.

Mrs. Prior from Menlo Park was an over-the-Fourth guest of her mother, Mrs. C. L. Davis.

Mr. Frame, manager of the Brookdale Fish Hatchery, has just shipped 30,000 trout fry to points up the coast. There are some 500,000 young fish yet to be distributed from this year's hatch.

OPENING AT WEST'S

West's Summer Resort at Wildwood No. 1, had an opening Saturday and Sunday which was largely attended and most heartily enjoyed by the large crowd present. Wildwood is about two miles north of town and very pleasantly located for outing purposes. The opening was characterized by fine music, enjoyable dancing, and the refreshments consisting of chicken dinners, ice cream, fruits, candies, soft drinks, etc., were partaken of in a manner to indicate their goodness.

Among those who attended to opening were: Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Scovel, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Murray, Mr. and Mrs. C. Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kimmel, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. R. Thompson, Miss Gladys Kimmel, Henrietta Olsen, Florence Olsen, Florence Harper, Nell Bortoli, all from San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. George Herrick, Mr. W. Herrick, Miss Evelyn Ory William Bland, Jr., all of Lodi. Mr. J. McGrath, Elwood Kimmel, also the Lyon Orchestra of San Francisco consisting of Mel Lyon, Elwood Kimmel, Paul and Ralph Scovel, Mrs. McCormick, Miss Betty Heffler, both of Los Angeles. Harry Winn, Dr. and Mrs. Dexter Ball, Miss Valora Bray, Miss Nadine Doty, Miss Betty McKillip, Miss Peggy Van Valkenburg Ruth Gray, Howard Gray, Margaret Cunningham, Julie Leonard, Miss Bab Mullen, Ramona Mullen, Mr. Ed. Tucker, Lei Mari, Earl MacDonald, J. Robert McKillip and P. S. Cheney.

Long Silence Explained

A certain worthy couple in an English country district had a boy who was supposed to be dumb, for up to his seventh year he had not spoken. One day it happened that he and his father were busy in the hay field. It was very hot, and the father paused for a drink of tea.

As he was very slowly imbibing from the jar the boy said:

"Make haste!"

In astonishment the man lowered the jar from his lips and gazed at the boy.

"Why, lad," he exclaimed, "you're talkin'! Why didn't you speak afore?"

"Nothin' to say," replied the boy.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

YOUNG LAD DROWNED

Shurbley Adams, nine years old, was drowned in the river while fishing on July Fourth. Young Adams who was a visitor to Forest Park, was left in charge of some friends by his mother while she was spending the day in Santa Cruz. He went fishing and in some manner fell into the stream. Dr. Hoag was summoned and worked over the lad for two hours without avail. There was very little water in his lungs which indicated that he must have been unconscious before he fell into the water.

Father—Yes; so is Dicky. That's why he wrote it.—Boston Transcript.

Some Lacking

Mrs. Higgins was an incurable grumbler. She grumbled at everything and everybody. But at last the vicar thought he had found something about which she could make no complaint; the old lady's crop of potatoes was certainly the finest for miles 'round.

"Ah, for once you must be well pleased," he said, with a beaming smile, as he met her in the village street. "Everyone's saying how splendid your potatoes are this year."

The old lady glowered at him as she answered:

"They're not so poor. But where's the bad ones for the pigs?"—Answers.

WHEN THE AIR GETS CROWDED

(From the Worcester Telegram)

The army plane which crashed with seven men aboard didn't fall in a populated neighborhood, but it might have done so. On the same day another machine narrowly missed plunging into a crowded grandstand.

What will happen when flying becomes really general. Shall we be forced to armor our roofs? And will the newspaper's daily report of tragedies substitute for news of railroad wrecks the news of the speed plane which ran off the track and into a thronged department store? How common will be the dropping on somebody's skull of propeller blades, monkey wrenches and spare parts?

BEN LOMOND NEWS

Mr. Dedican and Mr. Poulsson, who spent the holidays with their families in Ben Lomond, returned to the city Tuesday. They were accompanied by Miss Mary Lee Moore, who after transacting some business in the city will return to Ben Lomond.

TREASURES

The teddy bear lies on the table,
Two dollies sprawl flat on the floor,
And the hobby horse claims for his stable
The job by the dining room door;
My chair holds a calico bunny,
A jumping-jack swings from above,
And each is a treasure to Sonny,
Miss Muffet, and wee Lady-Love.

Innumerable times I have told them
That scattering toys makes me vexed,
Half dismayed and half laughing I scold them,
"What will you be leaving 'round
next?"
But I pick up the battered clown
"Funny"
As I'd nestle a wing-weary dove,
For he is a treasure to Sonny,
Miss Muffet, and wee Lady Love.

With nerves that are tired and a-jan-
gle
From childish confusion and noise,
I hasten to straighten the tangle,
But gently I handle their toys,
Lest I, by my heedlessly grieving
A worshipful small devotee,
Should break some fine thread that is weaving
My treasures to home and to me.
—Blanche F. Gile in the Christian Register.

GRASS FIRES

Several grass fires have called for attention in order to prevent their spread to localities where much damage might result, and thanks to the prompt attention given no damage has been done.

BEN LOMOND NEWS

Quite a bit of excitement was caused Saturday when an alarm of fire was rung in for the Oaks Cottage, which is occupied by Mrs. Keenan. The fire started from a wood stove which stood in too close proximity to a wood box. Fire in the village is always a signal for quick response on the part of the people and in this case so many people got busy fighting the blaze that but little damage was done.

Fourth of July—Independence Day—was celebrated in various ways. Many spent the day in traveling and machines were on the go all day—some to Santa Cruz and other points of interest in that direction while others traveled up the line to Big Basin. Still others there were who spent the day hiking through the woods and some spent the day quietly resting.

The dance given by the Boys' Club at Park Hall Saturday night was attended by more people than any other given this season, the crowd including a large representation of the campers and cottagers as well as local people.

Accommodations were hard to find over the week-end and Fourth of July holiday, everything having been engaged ahead that could be secured for the sojourn of visitors on pleasure bent.

Mrs. Albert Westgate and two children are at Leafy Dale for the remainder of the season. Mr. Westgate, who brought them down by machine, is a large ranch owner in Stockton and has returned to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. Price and two children are occupying their bungalow. Mr. Price is a banker in Fresno.

Mrs. R. I. Block, and son Harold, of San Francisco, is expected here Saturday, to be the guest of her sister, Mrs. R. T. Lyng.

The Roundthwaites are occupying their new home adjoining the Highlands. This new home is an addition to the town that improves the appearance of its locality very much.

The pageant and entertainment at Hotel Dickinson Sunday night was greatly enjoyed by the guests of the house and many who were visitors for the evening.

The ball game which was to take place between the Warren School camp team and the Ben Lomond team Sunday, was postponed on account of the school team being unable to get here.

Major Vandervoort is planning a trip to the High Sierras for a detachment of the Warren School boys in the near future.

C. A. Bradshaw killed a rattlesnake on the porch of his home near Newell Junction one day this week. It had three rattles and is the first one that has been seen in the neighborhood for years.

Mrs. Isora Conger and Mrs. Sara Smith after spending the month of June at Hotel Somerton in San Francisco, are spending some time at the home of Mrs. A. H. Townsend, an old neighbor of theirs back in Burlington, Vermont. They are boarding at Hotel Dickinson. Later they will return to Los Angeles, where they have made their home for the last four years.

UNDERWENT OPERATION

William Paradis of Ben Lomond, who has not been in the best of health for some time, was taken to the hospital Friday of last week where he underwent an operation for internal trouble. There is every indication of a successful outcome and latest reports from the hospital indicate that Mr. Paradis is making splendid progress on the road to recovery.
